ONE SISTER OF SIAMESE TWINS NEAR DEATH

OTHER SISTER FACES DEATH ALSO—SEPERATION MAY BE ATTEMPTED

Chicago, March 28.—Rosa Blazek struggled for life today as her Siamese twin sister Josefa faced death.

The twins, 43 years old, are the only ones extant known to the medical profession. Josefa was in a stupor at the west end hospital. Rosa at her side, prayed for life.

Rosa would gladly follow her sister to death but for her son Frantz, a bright eyed 12 year old son, she told Doctor Benjamin H. Breakstone, leading Chicago surgeon.

"Mother love has triumphed over sisterly affection in this case," said Dr. Breakstone.

Dr. Breakstone and Dr. Edward Cunat and other physicians today are still uncertain whether the death of Josefa would mean Rosa's death also. They have not yet given up hope for Josefa, who is suffering from jaundice. Her chances for life, however, are slight they agree.

An X-ray examination to determine whether the sisters can be separated if one dies has never been taken, according to Dr. Breakstone.

Efforts to part them will be made if Josefa dies, the doctor said.

Rosa smiled wanly as she talked to her son Frantz. Occasionally she would glance to her sister as doctors forced medicine into her throat.

Josefa and Rosa were born in Austria. They traveled with shows in Europe for a decade. The sisters arrived in the United States a year ago. Rosa's husband was killed in the world war.

SCORES OF CURIOUS JOIN SEARCH FOR MISS SCHNEIDER

MISSISSIPPI IS BEING SEARCHED FOR BODY—DETECTIVES BELIEVE HER ALIVE

(By United Press.)
St. Paul, March 28.—Scores of curious joined the search for Loraine Schneider, missing school teacher, today. Men, women and even small boys lined bridges over the Mississippi river in the belief that Miss Schneider's body may be discovered in the water.

Detectives working on the case do not believe that Miss Schneider is dead. Her body would have been found by this time if that were true, they said.

Up to a late hour this afternoon, no tangible clues had been turned up. Detectives investigating the report of the young woman who had registered at the Ryan hotel last Friday night, ran into a blind alley. The young woman seen at the hotel was not Miss Schneider, although she closely resembled her.

The missing Miss Schneider was a teacher in a school at Avon, Minnesota. She disappeared March 19th from a Minneapolis hotel.

This is the first memorial exercise of this sort that has been conducted in Arlington Cemetery and was attended by one of the most distinguished and international audiences that has assembled in the famous Amphitheater. International President McCullough, who is a Canadian, officiated at a similar exercise held last summer at the Arc de Triomphe in Paris, where a bronze memorial from International Rotary was placed on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier of France.

On Armistice Day, 1921, William McConnell of Dublin, Ireland, governor of the Rotary District in the British Isles, as a representative of International Rotary, placed a bronze tribute on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier of Great Britain in Westminster Abbey.

The ceremony at Arlington Saturday was of the most simple character. About two thousand members of the Rotary Clubs of the Fifth Rotary District, who are gathered for an important conference in Washington, were in attendance, together with International President Crawford McCullough, Secretary of the Navy Denby, Secretary of War Weeks, officers of the army and navy with distinguished records in the world war and representatives of foreign governments. Invitations had been extended to the representatives of all the twenty-two foreign countries in which there are Rotary clubs and which have representatives in Washington.

The Rotary memorial is in the form of a bronze tablet on which appears the inscription: "To the Glorious Memory of the Gallant Dead of the American Forces Who Gave Their Full Measure of Devotion and Service in the World War, 1917-1918."

Jewelry and silver was scooped up in bags. One hundred cases of pre-war whiskey was loaded on a truck. The servants pursued the bandits with shot guns, but an escape was made.

Immediately after the robbery, which occurred at the dinner hour last night, Cutten offered a reward of $1,000 for capture of the raiders.

ATTY. GENERAL WOULD ABOLISH CIVIL SERVICE

BELIEVES GOVERNMENT COULD BE OPERATED WITH LESS EMPLOYEES UNDER OLD SYSTEM

(By HERBERT WALKER, United Press Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, March 28.—Abolition of the civil service system for selecting government officials and restoration of the old plan of appointments on political recommendations is favored by Attorney General Daugherty.

This was revealed today by testimony of Daugherty before a subcommittee.

Daugherty said his views were personal, and that he was not speaking for the administration.

The attorney general frankly said he considered the civil service inefficient, stating he was thoroughly convinced it had been a very expensive experiment for the government. Without the civil service he believes the government could operate with two-thirds less employees than are now on its payroll.

President Harding may confer with Daugherty over the abolition of the civil service, it was learned at the White House today.

In a stirring speech the Soviet director called upon the communists to learn industry and business and to fight capitalism in the great struggle for the possession of Russia's resources.

"Get busy," Lenine shouted to his hearers, agitating openly for the first time a return to commercialism and business methods of the outside world. "Study methods of the capitalists, be prepared to combat successfully with capitalism since Genoa has opened the way."

Lenine had been reported as dying and suffering from a multiplicity of diseases, but he appeared apparently strong as he held the platform and awayed his hearers with his fighting speech.

NORTHWEST NEWS

Witness Acts as Juror

Bismarck, N. D., March 28.—The federal grand jury which sits again today after a recess since March 20 must reconsider fifteen cases upon which they returned indictments on that date.

The indictments were illegal because a man subpoenaed as a witness acted as a juror, deliberated and voted on the cases presented. C. L. Olson, prominent Richland county farmer, is the unintentional offender. Subpoenaed as a witness, Olson thought he was summoned to serve on the jury and although never sworn, sat during deliberations and voted on cases presented.

When a partial report was being prepared for the federal judge, Olson found he was not on the roll call. His suspicions led to investigation and the discovery that he had no right in the chamber.

Recess was then taken for another week. All cases upon which he acted must be reconsidered.

The jury will probably be in session over a week. Colonel M. A. Hildreth, United States district attorney is presenting the cases to the jury.

NEW FORD SELLING PLAN

Introduced in This District by Woodhead Motor Company of Brainerd, Advertised in Dispatch

The $50.00 down, $5.00 per week plan of selling Fords has proved so popular that the Woodhead Motor Company has decided to offer Ford buyers the advantage of "pay as you ride" terms which have gained such popularity in the larger cities.

"We have been reluctant about taking on the payment plan," says John F. Woodhead, "as the interest rates, brokerage fees etc. have been unreasonably high. Now, however, the interest insurance and delivery charges amount to less than 9 per cent on the deferred payments so that the buyer has practically the same advantages obtained by paying cash."

"Another advantage in the new policy is that the buyer has the opportunity of paying 33 1/2 per cent, 40 per cent or 50 per cent down and the balance in 6, 8, 10 or 12 equal monthly installments. In view of the fact that the Ford car is now lower in price than ever before in history, the new terms meet practically every pocket book. The Fordson tractor is also offered on the same basis but instead of monthly payments the notes are due in the fall or six month period."

The new plan is being watched with much interest by Ford agents in the smaller cities and will no doubt be as universal as the car in a few years. The Woodhead Motor Company are the first to use this plan of selling Fords outside of the large cities. That the people of Brainerd appreciate this offer is reflected by the fact that the first announcement of this plan appeared in the Dispatch on Wednesday of last week and since that time inquiries have come in from all over the county.

Think of Three 'Homey' Houses you like

Think how much of their attractiveness is due to the homelike effect of the shingle roof. Try that on some of your friends. Four out of five will tell you the "nicest", "prettiest" houses they know have shingle roofs.

Any architect will tell you that the most attractive houses in the best suburbs of the big cities usually have shingle roofs. Any farmer will tell you that the most economical long-service barn roof is a shingle roof. And here in the Central West most of these roofs are laid with

"HALF CENTURY" BRAND WHITE CEDAR SHINGLES
Laid With Galvanized or Copper Nails

First, because White Cedar is the best "weather wearing" shingle wood. Second, because "Half Century" Brand Shingles are all "air cured". No rushing of these through excessively heated dry kilns that take all the life and strength out of the wood, making it curl and warp.

Third, because "Half Century" Shingles are always the right thickness. You won't find them splitting under the nails as will happen to a shingle that is cut too thin.

Fourth, because they are White Cedar they take any shade of stain or paint beautifully. "Half Century" Shingles live as long as their name. It pays to insist on having them for your roof. And remember this: "Half Century" Shingles outlast common steel nails by a long, long way. Be sure to use galvanized or copper shingle nails. All lumber dealers can supply you. ## INCLEMENT WEATHER, NO BAR TO CONCERT

Joint Recital of William S. Beyer,
Alice Regina Johnson, Alice
Roberta Johnstone

DIRECTION MRS. JOHNSTONE

Given at the First Congregational Church for the Benefit of the Church Organ Fund

In spite of the inclement weather, for rain and sleet prevailed the early part of the evening, a large audience assembled at the First Congregational church on Friday evening. The occasion was the joint recital of Wm. S. Beyer, Alice Regina Johnson and Alice Roberta Johnstone, given under the direction of Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone.

The main room of the auditorium filled rapidly, and the doors of the auxiliary room were then thrown open. Chairs were placed in available space to accommodate the throng, whose attendance on such a night attested to the truth of Milton's well-known line: "Such sweet compulsion doth in music lie."

The platform was pleasingly decorated with springtime flowers and ferns, which, with the attractive gowns of the young women who took part in the program, gave a note of color to the neutral tones of the interior of the church.

"Valse Tyrolenne," arranged for two pianos, was the first number, played by William S. Beyer and Alice Regina Johnson. This brilliant composition is by Joachim Raff, and is written in the fluently melodious vein usually associated with this composer. The dreamy melody, in which is a sweet sadness, is expressed in the eloquent rhythm of the waltz.

A very good interpretation was given of this example of what has been called "idealized dance music," first one and then the other of the players carrying the rich melody. The outstanding quality of their playing was the perfect unison displayed, and the delighted audience applauded this number warmly.

Next came a sonatina for the violin, by the Russian composer, Dvorak. This was played by Alice Roberta Johnstone, who is a pupil of Rudolph Peterson, of the MacPhail School of Music, Minneapolis. Miss Johnstone displayed much talent in this ambitious number the different movements of which are familiar to most music lovers. The sure, smooth strokes of the bow brought out to perfection the plaintive notes of "The Indian Lament," so beautifully woven into this composition by the composer. This sonatina taxes the strength of more rugged performers than the young girl who gave her own interpretation of the varied movements of the so-called "little sonata," which is small in name only.

The difficult accompaniment was played by Marion B. Opsahl with a fine appreciation of its individuality. Miss Opsahl played all of the violin accompaniments with much sympathy and delicacy of touch. Brainerd is fortunate in having a number of fine accompanists, Miss Opsahl taking her place among them for the musicianly manner of her playing.

Two numbers by the English composer, Cyril Scott were given next, "Lento," and "Danse Negre," a queer, melodious and fascinating negro dance. On most artistic programs of the present day Cyril Scott has a place. "The Fauns" by Chaminade, completed the trio, played on the piano with grace and feeling by Alice Johnson. Of the three, perhaps the last named was the most favored. Elfish, haunting, elusive gay, with light, rippling chords suggestive of shining brooks, this pastoral study was most charming.

Responding to an encore Miss Johnson gave first a little explanatory talk on her choice, "In My Neighbor's Garden," by Neven, giving a vivid impression of a springtime garden, full of rustling leaves, fluttering wings, and silvery bird notes. However, something is lacking in that garden, some presence is longed for, and the flowers and birds seem but sad mockery to the hungry heart.

Her interpretation was true to her word picture, and though the sun shone on, and each bright blossom nodded to the passing breeze, one felt the domination of a personal sorrow. Miss Johnson's dexterous finger technique was especially interesting to watch, her fingers chasing themselves up and down the keys with the ease that must come only from hours of serious practice.

After a short intermission a duo for two pianos by Arensky was played by Alice Regina Johnson and William Beyer. Two of the three movements of this well-known suit were played, "The Romance" and "Valse." Though presenting no new thought, the "Romance" is a satisfying composition, suggesting as it does a quiet pastoral scene. In great contrast is the "Valse," with its poetry, subtle glamour and fiery fascination. The playing was extremely brilliant, the famous waltz movement being given with a dash and abandon surprising in such young performers. This number was received with much enthusiasm by the delighted audience.

Following this Miss Johnstone played two interesting numbers, "Romance No. 2," by Beethoven and a Russian piece, "Slavonic Dance," by Dvorak and arranged for the violin by Fritz Kreisler. Miss Johnstone's best work was done in "Romance," a favorite of her instructor's. Characteristic of Beethoven, whose music so often shows his longing for the ever sought but never found solution of life's great problem, this number was rendered with extreme gravity and serious thoughtfulness and yet with a certain repressed intensity surprising in one so youthful. Miss Johnstone's strength did not allow her to respond to the generous encore.

Mr. Beyer was heard in a group of three very different and attractive numbers, Rachmaninoff's "Prelude, Op. 3" being especially well received. "This is one of the strongest productions of the new Russian school, Slavonic to its very marrow, original in every line, mighty with the untamed, uncompromising passions of a newly awakened, half-barbaric race, vital with the essence of a tremendous historic situation." In such words a famous composer and musician speaks of this composition.

Following the last of the group, a brilliant Spanish composition, one of the Chopin preludes was given as an encore. Its wonderfully deep and rich chords gave much pleasure to his hearers, the reverent manner of his playing giving a church-like interpretation very much in keeping with the surroundings.

"Legende Op. 17," played on the violin by Miss Johnstone, was given with a careful attention to phrasing and pleased lovers of that style of music. It has been said that primitive men, in common with children and adults who live much in their feelings, naturally dramatize—act out—their thought and emotions. This number brings to mind one who tells a story with much imagination and dramatic emotion to spell-bound hearers. Responding to an encore Miss Johnstone played a veritable gem, "Evening," by Gaylord Yost.

As a fitting close to a delightful program came Chopin's (Rondo) Op. 73, played on two pianos by Mr. Beyer and Miss Johnson. The half-playful, half-fascinating side of nature and life is here depicted in a manner much like Mendelssohn's. This number calls for a high degree of technical skill, and the execution of the pianists fully met the need, besides demonstrating an artistic interpretation very remarkable. The grace and power of Miss Johnson's slender arms and nimble fingers were amazing, and the sure touch of Mr. Beyer was masterly.

The recital was a success, both financially and artistically, and many thanks are due to those who took part and to Mrs. Johnstone, under whose able direction the program was given. The organ fund of the church will be swelled by a substantial sum while the music lovers of Brainerd, and those perhaps not so well versed in music, will now be aware of the talent and capacity for hard work that these young musicians of our own city possess.

THE BAKING POWDER QUESTION SOLVED

Most housewives proclaim that the baking powder question was solved for them the moment they used the first spoonful of Calumet. After that no doubt remained—no hoping—no searching for a perfect leavener—no wondering if bakings would "turn out all right."

CALUMET BAKING POWDER

has solved the question because in all these thirty years it has never failed to produce wholesome and appetizing foods at an economical cost. It is as pure and sure as any baking powder ever made.

Calumet is more economical than other brands selling for less because its quality is the highest—no losses from spoiled bakings.

Use Calumet once—that's enough to prove to you that it's "best by test."

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it

Reward Offered

It will be easier to accumulate money if you have some worth while object in view, and always fix the date when you mean to pass the next hundred dollar mark.

We know of the self denial of many who at last have obtained their reward, and can witness the fact that their present resources are due to pluck—not luck; and to a bank account—not a pull.

Every day brings opportunity to reward the man who has ready money.

Automatic POWER and LIGHT 110 Volt D. C.
—without storage batteries

You now have the opportunity to see, in action, here at our store, the latest successful development in electric power and light plants—the Kohler Automatic.

This plant makes it possible for anyone, anywhere, to produce standard 110-volt electricity for lighting the home and other buildings, operating running water systems and furnishing current to electrical household and power appliances.

You will be surprised to see that the Kohler Automatic operates without storage batteries, which were formerly thought necessary in ordinary electric plants. The only battery used with the Kohler Automatic is a small automobile-type, to start the engine.

This feature of "no storage batteries" does away with the large banks of glass-cell storage batteries, and eliminates much trouble and expense in maintaining and replacing battery plates.

The Kohler Automatic operates all standard 110-volt light bulbs and power appliances. It produces up to 1500 watts of electricity simply upon the turn of any button anywhere on the circuit and automatically regulates the amount of fuel used to the load being carried.

SENATOR "PAT" HARRISON

THE distinguished Senator "Pat" Harrison, of Mississippi, one of the last of the old-time Southern fire-eaters, and a typical representative of the beloved "Lost Cause," is announced to deliver an address at the Jefferson Day banquet of Ramsey county Democrats in St. Paul next Saturday evening.

Senator "Pat" is chiefly known to fame because of his frenzied outbursts in the Senate over the "purity of the ballot" when the Michigan Senatorial contest was under consideration, and his fiery denunciation of this Republican "outrage" in his numerous speeches throughout the country since. When he tells the Democrats of Minnesota about the money that was spent so freely by Senator Newberry's friends to insure his election, which of course he will do, he might also explain how the Democrats of Mississippi carry the elections in that state; how they "protect the purity of the ballot" by laws which disfranchise a large majority of the voters, and by intimidating and terrifying those of the voters who oppose the Democratic candidates.

The state of Mississippi, where Senator Harrison gets his credentials, has a population of 1,788,000, or just about half the population of Michigan. In the election of 1920 the total vote of Mississippi, as shown by election returns, was 82,500, while in Michigan the total vote cast exceeded 1,000,000. In Mississippi, only 5 per cent of the people were permitted to vote, while in Michigan about 27 per cent went to the polls and registered their will.

The fact is that, either through the language of the Mississippi laws or the manner in which those laws are enforced by the judges of election, a vast majority of the people of that state are disfranchised. They are either denied the right to vote by provision of the election laws or they are forbidden the right to cast their ballots when they go to the polls, or, through intimidation, they are prevented from going to the polls at all, with the ultimate result that about one-twentieth of the population does the governing for the entire citizenship.

Of course, these facts are well known to Senator Harrison, who has recently become the spokesman of the Democratic party in the Senate. One would suppose that in view of the notoriously unfair elections in Mississippi, that virtuous Democratic statesman would leave it to some other Senator to criticize the manner in which elections are conducted in Michigan.

FARM PROSPECTS GOOD

Investigations of the Commerce and Agricultural Departments indicate that the American farmers have excellent prospects of a good year. It is estimated that more than $2,000,000,000 worth of food and farm products will be exported from the United States in 1922.

That there is a better business outlook for agriculture is evident from the increasing world demand for American food because of the withdrawal from markets of Russia, which formerly exported 10,000,000 tons of farm products a year, and the falling operating costs of farmers, with rising prices for nearly all of his products.

Before the war agricultural products were exported from the United States at the rate of about 10,000,000 tons per year. At present the farmers are exporting 20,000,000 tons a year. This is the highest rate in history. Foodstuffs and food animals are being sold abroad at a rate four times in excess of the pre-war rate.

It is regarded as certain that our farmers will experience a foreign demand for more than 10 per cent of their products, government officials who have been scrutinizing the outlook for 1922 say.

As regards supplies, machinery and labor, farm operating costs are decreasing. Machinery prices have been cut more than 10 per cent from the level of 1921. The Department records show, it is stated, that the cost of farm labor is approximately 30 per cent lower than a year ago.

RAILROAD OFFICIALS' SALARIES

SOME quite interesting information, bearing upon the frequent charge that the salaries of railroad officials should be cut down in order to permit reduction of rates and higher wages to the workers, has lately been presented by the Pennsylvania railroad. The Pennsylvania declares that if the salaries of all its general officers in 1920 had been abolished, rates and fares could not have been cut even 1 per cent; while if all those salaries had been added to the wage-earners' payroll, it would have been increased only 1.3 per cent.

It has long been evident that the efficiency of our transportation system depends upon the brains of the management more than on any other single factor. That fact was abundantly proved during the war when the practical railroad men were temporarily retired from power and Democratic politicians undertook to run the roads for the Government. What happened proved a very expensive experience to the people. The taxpayers are still paying the deficits.

Fortunately, however, the brains of the railroad business are now back in their office, and the situation is improving daily. Undoubtedly, if only 1 per cent of the total labor cost of operation goes to the management, it represents the greatest bargain that the stockholders have in the management of their properties.

ACCORDING to figures compiled by the Department of Commerce up to last Monday, business is gradually approaching normal. The improvement in those industries which "constitute the backbone of American business" has been "very marked" over conditions of a few months ago, it is stated.

THE FEDERAL and State Departments of Agriculture have decided to put crews into the field to dig out and eradicate barberry bushes in every county in Minnesota this summer. The counties along the Mississippi river, however, will not be gone over until the other work is finished, probably this fall.

Brainerd in Days Gone By

20 YEARS AGO TODAY

(From Brainerd Daily Dispatch Files, of March 28, 1922.)

A big heading stated "R. D. Holden May Expand." This was not meant in a physical way, but that he was to add a cafe to his saloon on Front street.

It was announced that Third Vice President J. M. Hannaford had been made Second Vice President of the Northern Pacific in charge of traffic.

R. W. McKay, brother of Agent W. D. McKay of the Northern Pacific, was promoted from engineer and fireman timekeeper to storekeeper at Seattle, Wash.

Maple sap was running out at Katrine.

Wolves were very vicious during the winter, destroying sheep.

Mrs. G. W. Vanderslice was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Ingersoll.

Attorney Polk returned from Aitkin where he had been on legal business.

The institution of the new lodge of Elks at Little Falls will occur on April 15, Brainerd, St. Cloud, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Stillwater will send delegations to take part in the ceremonies and a red hot time may be expected.

The Pine Tree Blaze is quoted: "Dr. Hemstead of Brainerd has concluded to become a candidate for congress from the sixth district on the democratic ticket. No doubt lots of congressmen need fixing and a doctor would undoubtedly help out a good deal."

Henry White, brother of C. B. and I. U. White of this city, who has for the past two years held a position as storekeeper on the Buffalo, Rochester & Western railroad at Bradford, Pa., has resigned on account of poor health, and will return to Brainerd with his family shortly. He expects to reside at Gull Lake during the summer.

A reorganization took place in the Northern Pacific. Besides changes made among high officials, these changes were recorded in Brainerd: H. A. Lyddon, general foreman at the shops, was made master mechanic with headquarters at Staples. S. L. Bean will hereafter have charge of the Brainerd shops and the first and second districts of the Lake Superior division. H. M. Curry will have charge of the Fargo shops and mechanical matters on the Dakota division. L. Cooley, pit foreman, resigned, and the position has been abolished, effective March 31. That part of the shop will now be handled by gang foremen, and to such positions the following machinists have been appointed: J. P. Anderson, William Martin, Samuel King and George Fox. Arthur Dinan of Gladstone succeeded Mr. Lyddon as general foreman of the shops.

HEALTH SERVICE SOCIETY

Report on Work Done by Northwestern Hospital Society to be Given on April 4

A report of the work accomplished, by the Northwestern Health Service society will be given at the next regular meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. W. F. Dieckhaus, 411 North Broadway, on the afternoon of April 4th.

The work of this society is for the one purpose only, namely, helping the needy sick of this community, by providing free hospital care to those who are in need of such care and have not the means at hand to provide such care for themselves.

The doctors of the Northwestern hospital co-operate with this society to the extent of giving their services free to such patients.

The bed, room, food and supplies needed in the care of the patients will be paid for by this society, thus placing the poorer class of people on a par with the well-to-do, insofar as good care during sickness, in the hospital, can do so.

The Free Bed Committee of this society, are exceedingly careful as to the cases accepted. Each case is investigated very thoroughly.

The widows and orphans and those who have been extremely unfortunate are the especial ones to whom this organization are extending a friendly hand.

The Brainerd Association of Ministers have been invited to attend the next meeting and Rev. Errington will address the gathering on the subject of "Home Missionary Work." Therefore it behooves every member, active and associate, to make an effort to be present.

A light lunch will be served and a silver offering taken.

BENEFIT SHOWS TO AID DISABLED VETS

"The Idol Dancer" Given at the New Park Theatre March 28 and 29 Gains Good Crowds

THE PUBLIC IS RESPONSIVE

Money to be Used to Aid Disabled Veterans Not Receiving Aid from the Government

(Contributed)

The benefit show at the New Park theatre was a great success Monday evening, and played to a full house. The play, a First National attraction, "The Idol Dancer," starring two world famous screen favorites Richard Barthelmess and Clarine Seymour, in a wonderful expression of real love, hate, and a touch of the old cave man stuff and is played amid wonderful scenery in the dreamy South Sea Islands.

Tonight is your last chance to see this super-picture, so come early and avoid the rush.

This benefit is to help the disabled veterans in Crow Wing county, who are not receiving help from the government and who are in need.

There are a number of cases right around this vicinity, of men who were disabled in service, who have been lying in hospitals without pay, due to some error in their government records, some of whom have a wife and family, or dependent mother and as these dependents cannot live on government red tape, the aim is to look after them, until further aid is secured. That is the principal use of funds taken into our organization from benefit shows and dances. So please don't forget the boys who willingly did their bit.

The Disabled Veterans of the World War, Post No. 4, Brainerd, wish to express their thanks and appreciation to the owners and management of the New Park theatre for the wonderful co-operation and spirit of comradeship shown the Disabled Veterans during these benefit performances and wish them all the good luck possible in the future.

The Alderman-Maghan company has added a kitchen furnishing department to their store and the same has been established on the second floor and takes up an area of 25 to 75 feet.

In this department is displayed every article and contrivance needed in a modern kitchen. There are coal and wood ranges, oil stoves of all kinds, kitchen cabinets, kitchen tables and chairs, Armstrong linoleums, refrigerators, stoneware, dishes, aluminum ware, cooking utensils of all kinds, meat choppers, ice cream freezers etc.

The entire floor has been newly decorated. It is well lighted and most conveniently arranged for the display of goods. This coupled with courteous and efficient service, convenient terms, etc., is rapidly building up a large trade in this line.

A campers gasoline stove for cooking and baking, conveniently arranged to be carried in an automobile, packing up into the small size of an average suit case, is one of the novelties shown.

BUENO CONTEST CLOSED

Conducted by The Haydon Company, Aroused Much Interest in Their Product

For some days people have read and answered the advertisement on the second page of the Dispatch, which called attention to a mysterious "Bueno" and coupled with it were these questions:

What does it mean?
How is it to be used?
How do you pronounce it?
Will you like it? I say you will!
$5 was offered the person correctly answering the questions. Replies were addressed to No. 19, care of the Brainerd Dispatch.

No one was lucky enough to get the three answers absolutely correct, but each contestant has been invited by the Haydon Company factory to see how "Bueno" is made and to sample it.

It is pronounced Wa'-no. It is to be used on the Haydon perfected ice cream bar and is a Spanish word used to convey a feeling of pleasant surprise, approval or applause.

A. J. HALSTED HEADS CHARTER COMMISSION

Thirteen Members of Commission Present at Organization Meeting Monday Evening

SECRETARY IS HENRY KRAUSE

Petition Presented Asking Amendment of Charter to Provide Increased Hydrant Rental

The Charter Commission for the city of Brainerd, recently appointed by Judge W. S. McClenahan, met in the council chamber at the city hall on Monday evening, for organization. Thirteen of the fifteen members were present, Jacob H. Strickler and Albert E. Weidemann being the absentees.

The Commission organized by electing the following officers: President, A. J. Halsted; Vice President, Andrew G. Anderson; Secretary, Henry J. Krause.

The president was authorized to appoint four committees, as follows: Finance, five members; Public Improvement, Public Affairs and Boards and Court Matters, three members each.

A petition signed by many voters of the city, asking for an amendment to the charter of the city to provide for an increase in the levy for hydrant rentals, was presented by A. A. Arnold, who is also a member of the Water and Light Board. The petition was accompanied by a long typewritten statement of the affairs of the Water and Light Department which precipitated a rather lively discussion of an hour or so, in which considerable hostility to the proposition was developed.

Finally, the Commission voted to postpone further consideration of the petition until Tuesday evening, April 4, when the members of the Water and Light Board will be given a chance to be heard.

A motion was made and carried requesting the City Council to supply the members of the Commission with copies of the city charter and the Water and Light Board to provide them with copies of the statement they had presented.

The election of an attorney for the Commission was deferred until later.

VETS, WIVES, WIDOWS GET PREFERENCE

Washington, D. C., March 28—Widows of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, and marines who served in the World War, and wives of injured soldiers, sailors, and marines of that war who themselves are not physically qualified to hold positions in the civil service, but whose wives are qualified, will be given the same preference in examination for postmasterships at first, second, and third class posts that is given to the men themselves, under the Civil Service Commission's interpretation of the Executive order of October 14, 1921, it is said in a statement issued by the commission today.

In other words, the commission states, under its interpretation it will apply the executive order to the same classes of World War veterans, their widows and wives, that is provided for positions in the classified civil service by the veteran preference act of July 11, 1921.

Postmasterships at offices of the first, second, and third classes are not classified under the civil service law, although filled through competitive examination under executive order, and such military preference as is allowed in examinations for such offices is also provided by executive order.

Newest Griffith Film at New Park

Philosophers have argued at length against the proverb that clothes make the man, but it is an undeniable fact that very few South Sea Islanders acquire the dignity to match their devoutness when they accept the Christian religion. Their personal appearance make a ludicrous contrast with ministerial clothing no matter how serious they may be.

D. W. Griffith has incorporated one of these characters in his latest production, "The Idol Dancer," which will be the attraction at the New Park last time tonight. It is a love story such as could not have happened anywhere else in the world than on the South Sea, a place of adventure and romance made famous by some of the best writers in history.

Risky Work Demanded of Screen Stars

There are some disadvantages about being a screen star.

One of the chief of these, thinks Miss Bebe Daniels, star of "The Speed Girl," which plays at the New Park Wednesday and Thursday, is the limitation placed upon a star's personal life, liberty and pursuit of happiness when she signs her stellar contract.

For example: Miss Daniels is very fond of flying. But when she feels in the mood for a little flight up, up into empyrean, with many a thrilling swoop and spin over the blue Pacific, can she go to the 'phone, call up the aero-taxi and order a plane to come for her?

She cannot! For she is a screen star, and her boss won't let her! Not from selfishness, but because the life and health of a film star do not belong solely to herself; but, in a sense, to her employer, since for a star to be injured and laid up in the middle of an expensive production might cause the loss of tens of thousands of dollars.

But when the picture calls for an actor or star to fly—well, that's quite another matter! So in "The Speed Girl," Miss Daniels had a very nice flight, which is shown on the screen. Though she is so fond of air travel, this is only her second flight within a year.

In "The Speed Girl," which is a fast-moving story by Elmer Harris, author of "Ducks and Drakes," and "Her Sturdy Oak," Miss Daniels is seen as Betty Lee, the very type of the present-day girl. Theodore Von Eltz, a new leading man in Realart pictures, is Lieut. Tom Manley, while Walter Hiers is the press-agent, Frank Elliott, Norris Johnson, Truly Shattuck, Barbara Maier and Wm. Court-right play the other named roles.

Maurice Campbell directed in dashing style, with H. Kinley Martin photographing. Douglas Doty wrote the scenario and Elmer Harris supervised.

"Shame" Ranks With Best Offerings

"Shame," the William Fox special which began a run yesterday at the Lyceum theatre, must be ranked with the best in screen offerings. It is a fascinating and enthralling tale, and scenically the picture is beautiful. It is one of those impressive photodramas that stand out from the general run and help establish new standards of excellence in the foremost field of entertainment.

The production adds to the fame of Emmett J. Flynn, the young director who made the Fox special, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," and it has served to lift to stardom John Gilbert, the brilliant young actor who portrays the character of David Fielding.

Fielding, the youthful head of a big shipping concern in San Francisco, is told he is a half-caste. Refusing at first to believe it, he broods over the charge until he grows frantic. He takes his infant child and leaves his home, going to the wilds of Alaska. His wife follows with a faithful secretary. They are attacked by wolves, and the secretary jumps from the dog sled to fight the pack. The dogs run on to Fielding's cabin and stop. As

Fielding gets his wife inside the cabin he is attacked by one of the wolves, and fights it barehanded.

The climax of the story is a striking surprise, clearing up the mystery of young Fielding's life. The picture will remain at the Lyceum for tonight only at 7:00 and 9:00.

"Life's Darn Funny" with Viola Dana

Viola Dana, the effervescent little Metro star whose work on the screen is a thing of undiluted joy, will be seen at the Lyceum theatre tomorrow and Thursday in "Life's Darn Funny," a Dallas M. Fitzgerald production adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story, "Caretakers Within" by Christie Jope Slade.

Nearly everybody sometimes in his life has occasion to say apropos of some unusual experience that takes one completely by surprise, "Life's Darn Funny." And it is. You will think so in this picture when you see Zoe Robert, the ambitious but struggling violinist who is about to launch on her career with a recital, when she discovers the lack of a gown may prevent her debut. As luck would have it, another artist, Clay Warwick, painter by profession and landlady-dodger by necessity, hears her weeping, comes on the scene and designs a stunning frock for her. Both later go into the costume designing business, hoping to gain some money, but things go wrong continually. Always at the eleventh hour something propitious intervenes, and in the end both are launched successfully on their artistic careers.

Viola Dana has the part of little Zoe, and opposite her is Gareth Hughes, the youthful brilliant actor, as Clay Warwick, the painter. Mr. Hughes consented to delay work on his own pictures so as to play this part.

WINTER TAKING BIG TOLL EVEN IN BIG CITIES

(By EDWIN W. HULLINGER, United Press Staff Correspondent.)

Moscow (By Mail).—The winter is taking a heavy toll this year in human life in Moscow and other large Russian cities.

Vital statistics recently published, show that the death rate last month in Moscow was twice the birth rate. Probably no other European city in peace times could report such conditions. Yet Moscow is distinctly outside the famine area and, comparatively speaking, beyond the typhus zone, although trains from the south are now rapidly bringing typhus to Moscow. A Russian physician yesterday placed the total cases here at about 3,000.

For a population weakened and exhausted physically and nervously by the strain of four years of revolution, preceded by three years of war, death waits covetously at every turn, in the form of tuberculosis, pneumonia, malnutrition, exposure to cold and typhus.

One does not need a visit to a vital statistician to see this. It is patent in the ordinary routine walks and in the many funeral processions.

On every side one hears of deaths. Attending the funeral of a Russian friend, we waited fifteen minutes at the entrance to the cemetery after the services. During that interval three funeral processions filed silently in. One of them was a simple cart with three wooden coffins, one on top of the other.

There are no undertakers in Moscow. If there were they would have no chemicals with which to work. Bodies are committed unembalmed to the coffins—usually wooden boxes. Oak and lead coffins are prohibitively expensive. Coffin dealers speculate and exploit just as other merchants do now.

The Revolution has left its mark, however, on the health of countless. It has added a score of years to the ages of many. The younger generation, under twenty-four, do not show the hardships in their faces, although many have weak hearts from nervous shocks.

Nor does the average workman or his wife show the hardships of the revolution in their faces, as might be expected. Suffering always was the normal for them. The last four years were simply a shade harder.

WAS A "BEAR CAT"

"My wife was never an angel, but after five years of liver and stomach trouble she became a 'bear cat.' No doctor or medicine helped her and we thought there was no help for her. Our grocer told me of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which had helped him for same trouble, so I brought home a bottle, but she promptly threw it out. I got it back and after a week coaxed her into taking it. She is now enjoying the best of health and disposition." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. Refinishing Floors.
To restore oak floors the old varnish must be first removed. Get at any paint shop paint remover, which will soften the varnish so it can be easily scraped off, after which clean the floor with rags and benzine. Next bleach, using oxalic acid dissolved in hot water. When dry the floor will be white. Wash with clear water and vinegar and it is ready to be filled. Use a paste filler, which must be wiped off. As soon as it begins to show white the floor is ready to be finished in varnish or wax.

GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat Less Meat if You Feel Back-achy or Have Bladder Trouble

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush out the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder distress. Adv.
